

Gayle Sulik is a wise and provocative voice.

- Peggy Orenstein, New York Times Best-Selling Author

Gayle Sulik, MA, PhD

Author, Speaker, Scholar
Medical Sociologist
Health Advocate

Engages audiences with expanded Q&A

Distills complex information for lay audiences

Authority on breast cancer, culture and medicine

Experienced Media Spokesperson

Gayle Sulik's views on breast cancer, advocacy, and women's health are highly respected. She has been a guest expert on NPR, CNN, Al Jazeera America, America's Radio News, Oprah Radio, and other local and national media outlets. Gayle is frequently quoted in respected publications such as The New York Times, USA Today, Reuters, Los Angeles Times, and others.

Dynamic, In-Demand Speaker

Gayle Sulik presents lively and thought-provoking lectures at colleges and universities, professional conferences, and elsewhere, including Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Michigan State University, Siena College, University of Illinois, Texas Tech, MD Anderson, Colgate University, University of North Texas, SUNY New Paltz, and Texas Book Festival. Gayle has also taught courses at Vassar College and Texas Woman's University.

Testimonials

"Gayle Sulik's talk was downright awesome. It was provocative, informative, and really well delivered."

- Kris De Welde PhD, Florida Gulf Coast University

"Gayle Sulik has an uncanny ability to apply her extensive knowledge and powerful insights with a delightful sense of humor to create powerful and compelling presentations."

- Astrid Eich-Krohms PhD, Otto-von-Guericke University

Speaking Topics

#ReThinkPink: The Changing Landscape of Breast Cancer Advocacy

Pink Ribbon Business: How Breast Cancer Became One of America's Top Brands

The Awareness Pitch: Deconstructing Breast Cancer Advertising

The Public Scholar: Thinking Inside and Outside the Academy

Writing Across Audiences: What do you do, and how do you do it?

Bookings and Inquiries: pinkribbonblues@gmail.com